

Please save public television. It has wonderful shows for our children, better than anything on regular channels. It also has great shows for adults like Nova and Frontline. You just cant get this quality of programs anywhere else. And it is commercial free, which is very important for our children. My daughter grew up on Barney without being brainwashd that she wanted sugary cereals and snacks and without commercials that show women sexualized.